

ROBERT SEGGIE

ABOUT ME

A successful explorationist and development/production geologist on key Australian fields. A highly regarded and well published international expert in sedimentology and sequence stratigraphy having led field, core-shed and classroom, technical training for AAPG and SPE.

QUALIFICATION

 BSc Hons, Applied Geology
University of New South Wales

SUBJECT MATTER EXPERTISE

Seismic Sequence Stratigraphy, Structural Geology, Hydrodynamics, Field Development Planning, Play-based Exploration, Integrated Geological Studies, Coalbed Methane

INDUSTRY EXPERIENCE

Adjunct Professor at Curtin University investigating new lines of research into sedimentary and structural geology

Geological Advisor for development and production, leading appraisal programs, and geological studies for giant gas developments, and contributed to new business opportunities

Staff Geologist in field development and production of Cooper Basin fields, identifying new plays, expanding old fields, and evaluating new business opportunities

Principal consultant overseeing statutory valuations, prospectus reports, and leading stratigraphic and structural geology studies in PNG, resulting in a commercial oil field discovery

41

YEARS